INNER-VOICE

When we talk or sing, we generate a series of musical notes and chords that emotionally express to the listener characteristics and attributes of our personality, many of which are deeply hidden in our subconscious mind. What we emotionally express through our voice has a profound effect on our personal, and business relationships, and as direct extension, our happiness and success.

We live our lives largely unaware of the vast amount of information we communicate daily with our voice. The actual words we speak are either empowered, or nullified by the programming of our subconscious.

The link between music and emotions is well established. A motion picture soundtrack is designed to establish our emotional understanding of the film's message. Talented composers skillfully manipulate our emotional response to what we hear by triggering our autonomic nervous system. Their artful manipulation can pull at our heart strings, bring tears to our eyes, fill us with hope, or terrify us.

Ignoring the impact of negative emotions and stress communicated by the voice can put our health into jeopardy. The American Medical Association (AMA) states that 80 percent of all health problems are stress related, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has stated that 85 percent of all diseases appear to have an emotional element.

HOW INNER-VOICE WORKS

Inner-Voice technology uses sound harmonizing techniques, which generate balancing audio frequencies derived from the voice spectrum excesses, and weaknesses, in the human voice.

Stated plainly, Inner-Voice diminishes frequencies that are in excess and supplements frequencies that we lack.

Inner-Voice records your voice and analyzes twelve notes across nine octaves, C, C#, D, D#, E, F, F#, G, G#, A, A#, B. Inner-Voice focuses on the three high notes that are excessively out of balance, or over represented, as well as the lowest note that is being suppressed.

Every single note produces a series of tones called the 'overtone series'. The human ear tends to hear these subtle variations as essentially the same. Inner-Voice technology is designed to accurately capture and analyze this data.

Inner-Voice helps harmonize our everyday life by improving: Concentration, Creativity, Mindfulness, Emotional Intelligence, Stress Management and Interpersonal Relationships.

HOW TO USE INNER-VOICE

Improvement requires daily usage. Your dedication will be rewarded. You will receive an email with four (4) audio files that correspond to each of the zones outlined in the following pages this report. Listen to these four audio files two to three times daily on your smartphone, tablet or computer, preferably with quality headphones. To strengthen results, use the recommended Lightwave Optical glasses shown on each report.
